Review, Consideration and Possible Vote on the following:

A. Complaints Proposed for Resolution by Dismissal or Closure:

1. AL20-011, Daniel Bueschel, Non-Registrant and Pueblo Mechanical and Controls, LLC, Non-Registrant Alarm Business

Respondent Firm’s representative, Mike Finn, and Respondent’s counsel, Daniel Barr, appeared telephonically. Alleger, Mark Boggs, and Alleger’s counsel, Elliot Isaac, appeared telephonically.

Mr. Isaac stated that Respondent firm hired Mr. Boggs to sell alarm systems with Mr. Boggs’s understanding that Respondent firm was a licensed alarm business; that while employed with Respondent firm, Mr. Boggs did attempt to sell alarm systems but he discovered that Respondent firm was not licensed as an alarm business and he requested Respondent firm become licensed; that Respondent firm denied that Mr. Boggs’s was hired to sell alarms services; and, that the evidence submitted to the Board proved otherwise. Mr. Issac asked that the Board should not agree with Board Staff’s recommendation to dismiss the case but find Respondent firm violated the Board’s Practice Act.

Mr. Barr stated that Respondent firm did not sell alarm systems; that Respondent firm did not hire Mr. Boggs to sell alarm systems; that Mr. Boggs, while employed at respondent firm, failed to sell anything, resulting in his termination from employment; and, that Respondent firm was unaware that Mr. Boggs was pursuing selling alarm systems while employed at Respondent firm. Mr. Barr asked that the Board agree with Board Staff’s recommendation and dismiss the case.

Dr. Angel asked why Respondent firm hired Mr. Boggs. Mr. Finn answered that Respondent firm hired Mr. Boggs to sell security cameras and access key card systems. Dr. Angel stated that the sale proposal to the University of Washington included services that may constitute an alarm system and asked Respondent firm to explain. Mr. Finn explained that Respondent firm was a subcontractor to the proposal. Dr. Angel stated that the services within the proposal appeared to be alarm system related.

Mr. Issac asked Mr. Boggs to explain what he did for Respondent firm and explain the evidence submitted to the Board. Mr. Boggs obliged, detailing the proposals he produced while employed with Respondent firm as alarm system proposals. Mr. Barr stated that Mr. Boggs had not added any new information that the parties had not already presented during the investigation of the case.
Mr. Foose asked investigator Correll how she came to her recommendation. Investigator Correll answered that the evidence did not corroborate Mr. Boggs's allegations. Dr. Angel asked about Mr. Boggs designation as an Electronic Security Systems Sales Representative for Respondent firm. Investigator Correll explained that Mr. Boggs's employee documentation listed his duties as selling Respondent firm products, not alarm systems.

Dr. Angel asked Mr. Boggs why he submitted the complaint and hired an attorney. Mr. Boggs answered that he submitted the complaint because he believed what Respondent firm was doing was illegal and that he hired an attorney because he believed Respondent firm wrongfully terminated him.

Ms. Wyckoff opined that the case be dismissed because there was no evidence that an alarm system was sold. Dr. Angel asked if the Board could convene an EAC. Ms. Cornelius answered 'no,' the Board does not have EAC members for alarm industry related matters. Dr. Angel opined that Respondent firm appeared disingenuous, but that he would vote to dismiss the case since the evidence did not conclusively indicate that Respondent firm violated the Board's Practice Act. Mr. Montgomery asked why Respondent firm allowed Mr. Boggs to sell alarm systems when they were not registered. Investigator Correll explained that Respondent firm denied that it was aware of Mr. Boggs's attempts to sell alarm systems and that Mr. Boggs stated to her that, while employed at Respondent firm, he had little supervision.

Ms. Wyckoff moved and Mr. Noel seconded to dismiss the case; motion carried unanimously.
